Donor Information

BACI adheres to our Privacy Policy regarding sharing of information. Opportunities are provided for donors to indicate their wishes regarding their identification as a supporter of BACI. BACI honours donors' requests to remain anonymous or not have the amount of their contribution publicly recognized.

General donor information is retained until BACI receives a request from the donor to remove their personal information. This request will be met as long as BACI has met legal requirements regarding retention of financial records. No specific credit card or financial information is retained after the initial donation transaction is processed.

Conflict of Interest

The interest and well-being of the donor takes priority in all fundraising matters. In cases of potential conflict of interest, those acting on behalf of BACI must declare the conflict and allow an impartial person to act for BACI.

Solicitation

Donors will be treated with respect and integrity, as per BACI's Code of Ethics. All donor solicitation materials will identify the name of our organization, and any person soliciting donations on BACI's behalf will disclose whether they are an employee or volunteer. When a potential donor states that they do not wish to be further solicited, we will stop making donation requests as soon as possible.

Fundraising Volunteers

BACI follows the Canadian Code for Volunteer Involvement and offers volunteer training for each fundraising initiative. The Senior Manager of Communications & Resource Development is responsible for such training – providing orientation, expectations and identified roles for each event or initiative.
